The work of a Mexican artisan and is the property of Miss Mae Dale of Green street, who received it recently from Eagle Pass, Texas.

The Glens Falls team, which was scheduled to play the Italians at the Berlin street grounds yesterday afternoon, failed to cross the mountain from Rutland to Gayville, and with an eleven hour notice the Italian management learned that the game would have to be cancelled. Manager Sweeney of the Glens Falls team wired L. T. Thompson of Rochester, N. Y., yesterday morning.

Three other men motored by the way of Burlington, reaching Barre at a little after 4 o'clock, and on reaching their destination, heard for the first time that the players from Glens Falls were stalled on Rochester mountain. Today the Italians will meet Montpelier on the mound for the Italians and probably Pierotti doing the twirling for Barre I. A. C.

Barre and East Barre Red Men, members of Iroquois and Wachuset tribes, are to take a prominent part in the annual session of the great council of Vermont, which opens in Montpelier to-morrow and continues until Friday evening.

William W. Russell and Alexander Ross, the latter great sachem of the Vermont Red Men, are members of the reception committee, along with C. H. Heaton, J. L. Jerome and D. T. Wilton of Montpelier.

James Rothnie is a member of the dance committee. The Red Men are to gather at the city hall at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and an hour later James T. Rogers of Binghamton, N. Y., great junior sagamore of the national council, will be escorted to the hall by a band of 75 genuine Redmen in war paint and feathers.

Corn and venison will be served, and thereafter long and short talks are to be given by the officers. Dancing will follow. Miller's Inn will be the headquarters for the great council, and all of the time Friday is to be taken up with business and sightseeing trips in Barre and Montpelier.

A brick chimney fire in the four-tenement house at 33-35 Brooklyn street caused panicky chills among the occupants of the building late yesterday afternoon and when it became evident that watchful waiting was not likely to mend matters, a telephone call was sent in to the fire station. The regulars responded in the auto truck to the second alarm in a day and arrived in time to extinguish burning wall paper in the second story apartment, occupied by Mrs. Ida Sillo-way. Also, they applied first-aid restoratives to the unmanageable chimney and did a good deal in the way of assuring the denizens that the danger would soon abate. The call came at 5:30 o'clock and the big truck was back in the station a few moments after 6.

The house is occupied by Mrs. Sillo-way, Mrs. Mary Roux, Albert Verner and Bert Wilfore, all of whom were naturally apprehensive when volumes of smoke began billowing out of the upper story. The trivial damage that resulted from the blaze is covered by insurance.

The members of the Hiawatha lodge, No. 20, I. O. O. F., are requested to meet at the hall at 1 p. m. sharp Thursday, Aug. 24, for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late brother Mills, N. G.

MONTPELIER

Hearing on Extension of Compensation for Prospero St. Martin.

A hearing was held this forenoon before the industrial accident board at the State House in the matter of Prospero St. Martin vs. G. B. Bianchi Granite Co. of Montpelier and the Royal Indemnity Co. Martin suffered a fractured leg several months ago and compensation was fixed at that time for 26 weeks. According to the statute, the board may extend the period of compensation provided the injured man does not recover sufficiently to allow him to resume work and the hearing was held on the question of whether or not he is still totally disabled. Adjournment was taken until 4 o'clock this afternoon without any action being taken.

A McDonald of Barre street left last evening for St. Johns, P. Q., where he will make a 10 days' visit with friends.

The Logan Squares, an independent team of local players, gave the local league team a stiff battle at Inter-city park yesterday afternoon, the logans winning by a 5 to 4 score. Bartlett, Montpelier's speedy little centerfielder, twirled against the logans and while battered freely at times had nice strike-outs. Fowle, the former Barre A. C. player, pitched for the logans and with good support would have prevented any scoring.

Mrs. C. A. Wilton of Boston is visiting in the city for a week with her son, Dean T. Wilton of East State street.

John Grandfield of Berlin street is seriously ill at his home.
